Notes for Social Workers

Parental Contributions – Children in Care

1. Both the natural or the adoptive parents of a child who is in care or accommodated, (whether or not they have parental responsibility) are required, by law, to make a contribution to the Council towards the cost of maintaining the child until the child reaches the age of 16 years. No assessment can be made for parental contributions in cases where the parent is in receipt of any of the following means tested benefits:

Income Support (or would be if their Income Support Child Allowance had not been transferred to Child Tax Credit).
Working Tax Credit.

IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT CONFIRMATION OF RECEIPTS OF THE BENEFITS LISTED ABOVE IS OBTAINED BEFORE A NIL ASSESSMENT IS APPLIED.

Because of confidentiality the Department of Work and Pensions may not be prepared to provide written confirmation. It is suggested that the social worker satisfies the validity of a claim by examining order books, claimant literature, etc.

2. Whilst, in the cases listed above, child benefit cannot be used to contribute towards the child's cost, parents must contribute at least the amount of child benefit for each child in care for the initial eight weeks that the benefit is paid. If, after eight weeks, the child is still looked after, the child benefit and any other benefits relating to the child will cease.
3. From the date of accepting the child into care an assessment upon income is made; based upon the assessment regulations adopted by the County Council. The maximum charge for any child is the current Foster Placement Payment for the appropriate age. However, where more than one child from a family is looked after, the Foster Payment rate for the eldest child is the maximum charge.
4. Immediately a child is accommodated or made the subject of a Care Order, you must explain to the parent(s) their obligation to contribute, and hand them the 'Notice to Parents' Form SS373. You should also give the parent(s) a completed Contribution Notice, and send a copy of the letter to the Parental Contributions Officer.
5. Where both parents are dead, a relative or friend may be receiving a guardian's allowance (plus child benefit). Unless the guardian receives any of the means tested benefits listed in (1) arrangements should be made immediately for the recipient to pay this to the County Council towards the cost of maintaining the child in care. However, the guardian is NOT required to pay any contribution beyond these allowances.
6. If the mother is receiving any allowances, benefit or maintenance via a Court Order, the Child Support Agency, or directly from the father, this must be paid over to the Council. This also applies to maintenance payable by the mother to the father. In respect of the child (or children) looked after by the Council, these payments must be paid over to the Local Authority up to the maximum amount of the contribution rate (see paragraph 10 on SS373). Where payments are being received for several children, only the proportion in respect of the child (or children) looked after by the Local Authority will be sought. If this, or any, payment made means that the income of a parent will fall to a level that may require support form Means Tested Benefits, advice and assistance in making the appropriate claims should be offered.

7. If a parent does not respond to the assessed charge or does not commence payments within four weeks, an application will normally be made to the Magistrates' Court for a 'Contribution Order'. If the contributor signs an agreement to the assessed amount, and does not maintain payments as agreed, payment will be enforced via the Magistrates' Court. At a stage when Court action is to be taken, the social worker will have the opportunity to draw attention to any welfare and other aspects of the case which require special consideration.

Notice to Parents

Payment of Parental Contributions with effect from 1 April 2009

1. When a child is looked after by the Local Authority, the Children Act 1989 Schedule 2 Part III allows the Local Authority to ask the parents to contribute towards the cost of child maintenance until the child reaches the age of 16, providing that the amount of the weekly contributions shall have regard to the parents' means. No assessment can be made for parental contributions in cases where the parent is in receipt of Income Support (or would be if their Income Support Child Allowances had not been transferred to Child Tax Credit), Working Tax Credit.
2. With the exception of parents receiving the above allowances, all parents are required to contribute at least the amount of child benefit, for each child in care, for the initial eight weeks that the benefit is paid. If, after eight weeks, the child is still looked after, then the child benefit and any other benefits relating to that child will cease.
3. If you feel that you cannot afford to contribute the full cost of care, as shown in paragraph 10 overleaf, and you are currently employed, evidence of your earnings must be produced. This can be given by arranging for your employer to complete the Employer's Certificate of Earnings, or by forwarding your last six wage slips, if you are weekly paid, or your last two wage slips, if you are monthly paid. You should also complete the enclosed means Enquiry Form and an assessment will then be made to calculate your weekly contribution according to current financial circumstances.
4. If the County Council is unable to obtain details of your financial circumstances, you will be assessed to pay the weekly amount that it costs to maintain a child boarded out with a foster parent as shown in paragraph 10 overleaf.
5. If you do not agree to pay at the assessed charge referred to in paragraphs 3 and 4, or fall behind in making the payments, application will be made to the Magistrates' Court for an Order specifying the payment to be made.
6. Notification of Change of Address
You must notify the Council via the Social Services local office of any change of address; failure to do so can render you liable to a fine.
7. Notification of Change in Financial Circumstances
Your circumstances will be reviewed periodically but you must notify the Social Services office immediately if there is a change in your capital, income and/or outgoings.
8. If either parent is the payer under a maintenance assessment to the Child Support Agency or a Court Maintenance Order it is your duty to notify the County Council.

9. If you require more information or assistance please contact the Parental Contributions Officer.

10. PARENTAL CONTRIBUTION RATES

If the County Council is looking after more than one of your children, the maximum contribution will be the amount relating to the eldest child only.

With effect from 1 April 2009, the rate will be:
